Organisational Background

Activate Learning is an education and training group based in Oxford. It runs schools, further education colleges and work-based training across Oxfordshire and Berkshire and delivers higher-education and international study programmes too. Activate Learning was launched on 4 November 2013 following the reorganisation, restructure and rebranding of the Oxford & Cherwell Valley College (OCVC) Group in 2013

Work Undertaken

Ian Benbow of Case-uk Limited provided information, advice and support to the Activate Learning Directorate to ensure the establishment was compliant with the requirements needed to implement the Department of Work and Pensions – Work and Health Programme. Support included, reviewing systems and procedure for managing information securely as well as providing policies for areas identified as needing improvement.

How Did We Do?

Communication Effectiveness	Quality of Work	Timing of Work	Overall Experience	Chance of Recommendations
Excellent	Excellent	Excellent	Excellent	Excellent

“My overall experience of working with Ian has been excellent. I have found Ian to be professional, knowledgeable, prompt and very easy to work with, - a pleasure to work with”.
